

People v. Woodruff, No. 00PDJ064, 8/22/00. Attorney Regulation.

The Presiding Disciplinary Judge accepted the parties' Conditional Admission of Misconduct in this reciprocal discipline action and suspended Suzanne Woodruff from the practice of law for ninety days. Respondent, who resides and practices in Hawaii, received a ninety-day suspension from the practice of law in the State of Hawaii for driving incidents in Hawaii. Respondent was charged in four separate incidents with driving under the influence of alcohol. She pled no contest to the first two incidents, no contest to inattention to driving in the third incident, and no contest to a fourth charge of driving under the influence and driving while license suspended. Respondent's conduct constitutes grounds for discipline pursuant to C.R.C.P. 251.32 and violates Colo. RPC 8.4(b). Respondent was ordered to pay the costs of these proceedings.
